

Nourish the Soil, Share Good Water #GivingTuesday

December 1, 2020

Dear Friends, Relatives, Partners, Allies and Community,

Today is #GivingTuesday, the Tuesday after Native American Heritage Day and the fall harvest season, when the global generosity movement unleashes the power of people and organizations to transform their communities and the world.

Please give to The Cultural Conservancy today to help us transform the world and liberate Indigenous communities! We focus on the intersection of three main elements within our work:

- Indigenous cultures
- Ancestral lands
- Traditional knowledge & Practices

We bring these three key elements together in a circle of kinship driven by our mission to protect and revitalize Native peoples and their traditional knowledge systems. Through creating safe space, land access, intergenerational learning opportunities, and professional development and skills sharing, we facilitate community-led transformation for communities struggling with cultural resiliency, food access, traditional economies, land displacement, and physical, spiritual, and cultural health.

Join us today!

Chi-miigwech, Chioke utte'esia, Yakuzhonday, Yawwko, Áho, Mahalo, Thank YOU!

Donate
Now

The Cultural Conservancy | 415-561-6594 | tcc@nativeland.org | www.nativeland.org

Connect with us

